

CSPS Award of Leadership in Canadian Pharmaceutical Sciences

This award is bestowed upon an individual who has demonstrated leadership in advancing the cause of pharmaceutical research and development in Canada. Priority is given to:

- Leadership in activities aimed at advancing Canadian pharmaceutical sciences.
- Activities that bring recognition to Canada as an important place to carry out pharmaceutical research and development.
- Discoveries or significant advances in pharmaceutical sciences that identify Canada as its place of origin.

The award will be presented at the 2021 Annual Symposium. For 2021, the award will consist of a complimentary registration to attend the 2021 CSPS Symposium (virtual) being held May 31 - June 3, 2021 and the recipient will be given the opportunity to give a presentation at the virtual symposium.

Nominations should include a letter of nomination, up to two letters of reference, and curriculum vitae of the nominee.

Please email this package to Liz MacMaster at csps@intertaskconferences.com, Administrator, Canadian Society for Pharmaceutical Sciences.

Deadline for submissions: March 31, 2021
