

Gayatri Jayaraman Bio

Dr. Jayaraman is the Director, Marketed Health Products Directorate at Health Canada. She has nearly 20-years' experience working in the health portfolio including at the Public Health Agency of Canada, and Indigenous Services Canada. Prior to joining the federal government, she worked as a Public Health Program Consultant in East Africa, India, and the Balkans. She is an adjunct professor in the School of Epidemiology and Public Health at the University of Ottawa.

Dr. Jayaraman has authored over 100 publications is the proud recipient of the Public Health Agency of Canada's Dr. Andres Petrasovits Award for Excellence in Public Health. She holds a PhD in Microbiology and Immunology from the University of Rochester, NY and a Master's of Public Health (Epidemiology) from Johns Hopkins University, Maryland.